Cardinal Oregila, who had, as is he cuseom, brought his declaration of having received the ring from the papal chamberlain, all written out, had to put it back in his pocket. M.r. Bisletti can give no indication as to the robber. The theft must have taken place between the day of the death of the pope and the morning of the following day, when Cardinal Oreglia officially certified to his death. During this time a large number of persons entered the death chamber.

The disappearance of the ring has caused a tremendous sensation at the vatican, where it is the sole subject of conversation.

In the meantime in the certificate of death of Leo XIII all allusion to recelving the ring has been suppressed.

Friends of Mgr. Bisletti hope that when the seals are removed from the cabinets of the late pope th ering will be found in one of them, but very litthe confidence is felt. The ring should never have left the pope's hand and every one denies having touched it.
